INT200 : HTML Fundamentals

Code : INT200  Duration : 1 day  Category : Internet

Audience :

Persons who want to learn to create Web pages for both for the Internet and the Intranet.

Prerequisites :

Knowledge of the basic aspects of the Internet and the use of a browser is required to participate in this course.

Realization :

The concepts are treated with the help presentation slides. A demo Web site is used to clarify the concepts. Attention is also paid to hands-on exercises.

HTML Fundamentals

Contents :

In the course HTML Fundamentals you'll learn how HTML Web pages are created. You will learn in practice the construction and maintenance of HTML pages. Various elements of HTML pages such as hyperlinks, fonts, colors, tables, images, forms and frames are treated. You will also learn to use a text editor and graphic editors.

Module 1 : HTML Intro

Creating Web Pages
What Is HTML?
HTML Flavors and Standards
HTML Coding
HTML Text Editors vs. GUI Editors
Creating an HTML Page

Module 2 : HTML Tags

Markup Tags
Document Structure Tags
Paragraph Formatting
Text Formatting
Using Lists
Ruling Horizontal Lines
Adding Images to your Pages

Module 3 : HTML and Text

Special Characters
Specifying Color in HTML
The Web-Safe Color Palette
Page Colors and Backgrounds
Specifying Font Information

Module 4 : HTML Links

HTML Hyperlinks
Understanding Links
Anchor Tag
Creating Internal Links

Module 5 : HTML Tables and Frames

HTML Tables
Changing Height and Width of Table Elements
Column and Row Voltage
FRAMESET and FRAME tag
Frameset Document
NOFRAMES tag
Targeting Frames with Hyperlinks

Module 6 : HTML Forms

Forms
The FORM tag
Web Form Fields